Conclusion

We are grateful to Hsinchu Taiwan Fund for Children and Families for launching such a meaningful event and giving us an opportunity to contribute our effort to the families who need help in our society.

Although there are still many people in society that need our attention and help, we can see from this garden party activity that many participating families have very happy and warm smiles on their faces, which encourages us to continue to participate in social charity.

Conclusion

In addition to hope that Hsinchu Taiwan Fund for Children and Families will continue to hold similar activities and provide opportunities for more people to participate in public affairs, Sino-American Silicon Group also hopes that the group would be a bellwether as inspiration to encourage our employees to contribute their effort to people who in need of help in society. Your kindness are very important to them.
